CITY POLITICS.

The Charter Election—Democratic Mass Meet-ing—Addresses by A. Onkey Hall, John T. Hoffman, Richard O'Gorman and Others. A mass meeting of the democracy in favor of the levation of A. Oakey Hall and Richard O'Gorman to the respective positions of Mayor and Connsel to the Corporation was held last evening at Tammany Hail, under the auspices of the Tammany General Com-age and great enthusiasm was manifested. The meeting was called to order by ex-State Sena-or Bradley, who nominated as chairman Judge S. B. Garvin, who made a few introductory marks, in which he urged the propriety of polling this vote, not as a necessity to secure victory but s an example of strength.

en introduced by the speaker, amid tremendous sthustasm, and, proceeding to address the meeting, and that the call under which this audience had aspaign, but for the purpose of congratulation the result of the late election. In so far as the approaching campaign was concerned, he asked to be permitted to say less than upon the question of congratulation upon the last. He was more accusioned to speak for others than himself, and it had often been said among lawyers that the man who pleads his own case has a fool for a client. When he (the speaker) had the some to accusioned his own case has a fool for a client. When he (the speaker) had the some that the sound had been the sound of the democracy of New York city last Monday even. Ing he returned his thanks to the then assembled here, in the presence of the "manufacturers of public opinion" who were before him, to, in addition, return his thanks, on behalf of the democracy, to the press of New York for the extreme coursely and kindness with which they had greeted the democratic party in this city, as an old journalist himself, as one who, twenty-five years ago, occupied the same position that these for the condition of the democratic party in this city, as an old journalist himself, as one who, twenty-five years ago, occupied the same position that these for the condition that the country, he would rather be the editor of an independent metropolitan journal than President of the United States. (Great cheering.) And while discussing this question of thanks and congratulation he was reminded that yesterday was Thanksgiving Hay, and he would venture to say that there was not a democration that day in this city who, when he had gathered his family around his sitar, did not give thanks that, whatever had been the result of the late election in other States that the construction of the congressional despotion materials when the condition of the congressional despotion materials and the triumphant democracy spreading throughout that ske, the principle that they would have the greatest voice in the government, it would have the greatest voice in the government, it would have the greatest voice tended by negro voters. (Great laughter.) The next sentence by the editor of the Journal was:—John T. Hoffman is in the hands of the foniest of mortals, but Mr., Griswold reposes in the hearts of four-fiths of the people of the State, outside of its Botany Bay precincts," (Laughter.) In order to show how Mr. Griswold reposed in the hearts of four-fiths of the people. Mr. Hail read the official returns of the vote for Governor, from some of the northern counties, published in the same issue that he had just been reading from, which showed that in many of those counties Mr. Hoffman had carried majorities. In Albany county alone, that had given Fenton a majority two years ago of 21st, Hoffman's majority over Griswold was 2,41s. Rensselaer county, of which Mr. Griswold is a resident, went 2,030 against Hoffman in 1866, and only 407 against him this year. The result showed that with his thirty thousand in this State, leaving out the vote of this city, as it was two years ago, at only forty-seven thousand. Hoffman was nevertheless elected by a majority of gains in the rural districts equal to that which McClellan got over Lincoin in 1-64. He would not, however, stop to apply personalfiles, life was too short to bandy epithets, though he was tred of hearing this—to use a Tribune word—"lying." but would say Honer to him who, self-complete and brave, Cao carve his own pathway to the grave.

Honor to him who, self-complete and brave, Can carve his own pathway to the grave. Can caree his own pathway to the grave.

Having elected John T. Hoffman as Governor, and reported their protest against the radical national legislature, it was their duty also to enter their protest against the little radical Legislature at albany, and greatly as this last had placed the power of the rife in the hands of commissions he felt it still to be an honor to be Chief Magistrate of this metropolis of America in which they proposed to make him the successor of Hoffman. (Cheers.) It was their duty, and if they did it next year that Legislature, and with it those commissions, would go down and New York would recover her chartered rights. After a lew further, remarks Mr. Hall retired annid loud cheering and calls for Joux T. Horfman, who was enthusiastically recovered. Three cheers were given for "Governor."

John T. Hoesman, who was enthusiastically received. Three cheers were given for "Governor Hoffman." Mr. Hoffman then proceeded to address a lew words of congratulation to the andience, and in the course of his remarks said that the principles of the democracy had already begon to expand snew and were creeping up the Hudson, away past Albany, and Trey to the northern parts of the State, and if he could not so conduct himself that this demorable power should creep more rapidly and excit has full influence throughout the raral districts, then he was very much mislaken in his own ambition and power, although it was not his intention to be the representative of any class or party, but of the whole people of the Empire State.

A. J. Homens then briefly addressed the democracy. . Rooms then briefly addressed the democracy,

A. J. Rooms then briefly addressed the democracy, and litthand O'Gorman was introduced, and said the city of New York might fairly lay claim to be the che adjusted city on the earth. It was the greatest city in America, with the largest commerce, the cruiter of fanance, and there were people in this city who like it and those who do not. He had read lately where a gentleman well known said that New York was the plague sport of the United States. Why dign't these people had it 'goodby' forever. We democrats, who gave 111,000 votes at the last election, like New York incan to stay in New York and were determined to govern New York. People from all nations came here and onloyed their liberlies without lear of king or knisser and riveted their nearts around their homes, their children and their fortunes, it was not the people who came to New York by sea, but those who came by land, who were the most ready to revide New York. They were few, it was true, but they conceived that it was their divine right to govern, and were always intermeding. Our behief was in the right of the many to person, and that all those laws which assume to make how when were faintered that the short was the people to vote next the short was the people to vote next the short was the show the connecty that New York has determined to govern its internal affairs. (Cheers.)

MASS MEETING OF THE GERMAN DEMOCRACY.

Large Turnout and Intense Enthusiasm for

Hall and O'German. A very large and imposing meeting convened last purer at the spactous hall known as Central Halt, Med, of and no Bowery, to endorse the homenations Actuacy Hall for Mayor and Bichard O'Gorman conscious Counsel. The hall was beautifully more not with garlands of flowers, hags and the Control about of the States, by Mr. C. Kiem. There !

were men from all the wards present; even the in-habitants of Hariem and Maniattanville cared not for the long distance they had to travel, but at-tended in large numbers. Although the election of their candidates appears a foregone conclusion, the Germans present at this mass meeting expressed themselves determined to give such rousing majori-ties that no republican, particularly no German republican, shall ever after attempt to hope for suc-cess in this city.

Anneastroin and A. Schinbage, were reast and carried also by a unanimous vote. Dr. Philip Merkle then read a series of resolutions, which were warmly applauded and enthusiastically approved by acclamation, particularly the last one.

The resolutions congratulate the democracy of the city and State of New York on the election of Horman as Governor and the Seymour electoral ticket in the State; that the German democrats will employ every honest effort to elect A. Oakey Hall to the Mayoralty and re-elect Richard O'Gorman as Corporation Counsel, both of whom have earned the highest esteem and approbation of their fellow citizens by the faithful discharge of their official duties, and finally that the past political life of these candidates is a sufficient guarantee that, supported by the next Governor of the State, they will insist that those offensive laws imposed upon this city and which infringe upon our municipal rights, interfere with the freedom of trade and diagrace and degrade our statute book, shall be more leniently executed. awaiting their entire repeal by a democratic Legislature to be elected next fall.

The first speaker was Colonel Anymony F. Wirreckell, of the Twenty-second ward. He spoke of the importance of the approaching elections to the citizens and taxpayers of New York. There was no doubt of the election of their candidates, but their majorities should be crushing.

At this time Mr. Richard O'Gorman entered the hall leaning on the arm of Mr. Nicolaus Mueller, and was received with tremendous cheering and waving of hats, the band playing "Hall to the Chief." Mr. O'Gorman was at once introduced by the ohair and addressed the meeting, speaking of having, in the native land of his hearers, on the banks of the Rhine, studled the source of some of the cheering histories of the past. He, too, was one of a race who crossed the occan to settle in this country; but they as Iranmen, like the Germans, cling fast to this country, the country of their children and their homes. The Germans and Irish unite t

At the conclusion of which the whole assembly rose and gave him three cheers, after which Judge Curtis continued, followed by Mr. Samuel Stern and Captain J. Rynders, and then the meeting adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC UNION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Nomination of Frederick A. Coukling for Mayor and Richard O'Gorman for Corpo-

The Executive Committee of the Democratic Union party met last evening at Masonic Hall to take action in relation to the filling of the vacancies occasioned by the withdrawal of Messrs, John Kelly and Abram by the withdrawal of Messrs, John Kelly and Abram R. Lawrence as candidates for Mayor and Corporation Counsel. It was finally determined to nominate Frederick A. Conking and Richard O'Gorman as candidates to fill the vacancies thus occasioned, and a committee was appointed to wait upon the nominees and tender them the nomination and to report to the Executive Committee to-night the result of their conference.

The Executive Committee then adjourned till eight o'clock this evening.

CONSTITUTIONAL UNION CITY CONVENTION. Nomination of Frederick A. Conkling for

Mayor.

The faction of the Constitutional Union party, whose headquarters are at Masonic Hail, met there last evening to nominate a candidate for Mayor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the declination of Mr. Andrew H. Green. An informal ballot having been taken it was found that Frederick A. Conkling had received sixty votes and A. Oakey Hall twelve.

Mr. Conkling was then nominated by acclamation and a committee of ten appointed to wait upon him and a committee of ten appointed to wait upon him and inform nim of the action of the Convention. The Convention getting tired at the prolonged absence of the committee, and one of the members of it having returned and stated that Mr. Conkling was engaged in conferring with the committee from the Democratic Union Executive Committee in relation to the nomination tendered him by that body, it was shally, but reluctantly, agreed to adjourn till tonight to receive the report of their committee.

THE POLICE ORDERS AS TO THE ELECTION. The following order, issued to-day, speaks for GENERAL ORDER—NO. 569.

OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT METROPOLITAN FOLICE.

300 MOLERARY STREET, N. Y., NOV. 27, 1868.

General Order No. 477 is in full force during the approach genection. You are required to govern yourself and your minand in conformity tharewith.

The statute provides that is "the duty of the Metropolitan incomposition of the day and night, within the Metopolitan Police district, and the members thereof are accretingly hereby therecunto ampowered, to especially prevent crims, detect and arrest senders," &c. And the statute further provides that "the warat members of the police force shall have power and thorily to immediately arrest, without warrant, and to take to custody any person who shall commit, or threaten, or example to commit, in the presence of such member, or within a tempt to commit, in the presence or offence directly provided by act of the Legislature."

The members of the force have no duty to perform more important than the pretection of the ballot box from fraud and violence, and they are especially urged to a vigilant and effective accretion of their duty in the premises. Let every person who has been frauduently registered be carefully looked after, and every one who may in any other way attempt to steal a vote be properly taken care of.

The Government Deficit and the Chamber King George of Hanover-Increasing Emi-gration-Persecution of Men of Letters-

The subject of the deficit creates universal and anxious attention, inasmuch as money has of late become dearer and the people as a body are growing more enlightened with respect to the profligacy in Prussian finance, and more particularly as they find Another ugly question to be settled by the Cham-ber, and which will occupy a great deal of its time, Hanover, for which the Ministry is yet to ask indemnity. No doubt it will be brought up that ex-King George has managed to maintain his opposition for the last nine months, and it is even rumored that he contemplates publishing another Guelph organ in of the memorable dictum of Count Bismarck:-"Poor pretenders are more dangerous than wealthy ones," with which he justified the indemnity in the first instance, and it will probably be suggested that the Palatine of Hesse's opposition was the na-tural result of the Count's policy. Of those promises made in former sessions—namely, a decentralization vinces provincial treasuries and a Supreme Court for the whole of Prussia-we do not think that an ota more will be fulfilled than the firmly seated Ministry will think proper to grant, the traditional policy of the conservatives being to hold fast what polley of the conservatives being to hold fast what they have got and grant as little as possible. It is not improbable that Herr Von Der Leydt, against whom the storm will expend its fury, will be compelled to make a pact with the national liberals, without whose weighty and numerous votes no measure can possibly be carried. The choice of President will most likely fall again upon Herr Von Forkenbeck, while that of Vice President is quite uncertain, as Herr Von Koller is no longer a favorite with the nationals. As we said before, the enlightenment of the people must needs be progressive, as deficits and increasing taxation are becoming chronic diseases. Take, for instance, Hamburg, that emporium of commerce and city of vast weaith, where all its finances were so ably managed that the very idea of a deficit was something unneard of, and now they have one to the tune of 800,000 marks.

Considering all the chances operating against the prosperity of a German, bad government, density of population, low price of labor and grievances innumerable, it is but natural that the tide of emigration should continually flow; indeed, we hear from Mecklenburg that as many as 650 people took their departure for America in one single day. Extra trains were in requisition to forward so great a number. This was but two days ago, and on previous days similar numbers left the country. A perfect emigration fever exists at the present moment in Pomerania, and very many of the inhabitants wait with anxiety to have tidings of those of their friends and relatives who have expatraited themselves, not for their country's, but for their own good. Here the Berlin the movement is less perceptible, but that there is a vast undercurrent could be proved at once by reference to the books of the various emigration agents. The weekly statistical register published by the police shows for the autumn months an unusual excess of departures over arrivals, and we may justily assume that this is in a great measure owing to emigration to your side of the they have got and grant as little as possible. It is secutions of harmless editors are as much the order of the day as ever. Any man writing upon politics is looked upon by the authorities as a dangerons individual, and it has actually been pronounced from the ministerial bench in the Chambers that "such individuals have missed their calling." Professor Geibel, the German poet, after resigning his post at the Munich University, returned his decorations to King Maxumitian II., of Bavaria, and this brave act has been followed by a similar renunciation on the part of the renowned author. Herr Pani Heyse, who wrote the King that his political views were the same as those of his colleagues.

The Spanish Charge d'Affaires, Don Diaz del Moral, at present in this city, has signified to Herr Thiele that his government desires to continue official intercourse with the Prussian Foreign Office. Additional measures have been taken for the protection of citizens of the North German Confederation resident in Spain.

The invitation sent to King Maximilian of Bavaria to visit Russia is declined for the present, and it is thought his Majesty will make the journey next spring. That very wealthy Juke of Brunswick, being still at loggerheads with the Court here, recently took his way through Leipsic en route for his beautiful mansion and estate in Silesia for the purpose of avoiding Prussian ground. The often mentioned Count von Der Goltz is on his way here, and as apartments have been rented for him it is supposed that he will submit to the care of the first physicians in this city after having been practised upon by so many quacks.

The daughter of Count Bismarck is engaged to be married to Count Luxburg, who is a royal Bavarian Privy Counsellor. Hiving at present in Wurtzburg. The noble house of Luxburg, being of Catholic persuasion, the incident has created great tittle-tattle in the houte volee.

It is recorded by the press, almost as an advance in the progress of civilization, that of late women have been employed in the place of men in the coul mines of Upper Sitesia. We are p

ROME.

The New French Ambassador-His Reception at the Vatican-Exciting Rumors in the City-Brigandage-Rumors of the Re-establishment of a Catholic Hierarchy in Scotlaud—The Health of Lie Holiness.
ROME. Nov. 7, 1868.
The new French Ambassador, Marquis de Banne-

ville, has arrived in Rome and had interviews with Cardinals Antonelli and Berardi, the Foreign and Home Ministers, but it was expected he would not be received by his Holiness before Tuesday, the 10th inst. In consequence, however, of pressing despatches necessitating his immediate communication with the Pontifical government his Excellency's credentials were presented to the Pope and he was received by his Holiness on the 6th in private andience. So sudden was the affair that his Excellency had to make use of the carriage of the Charge d'Amaires, M. Armand, his secretaries were summoned in great haste to attend him, and the liveries of his servants were those employed by his predecessor, Count de Sartiges. The Ambassador's state reception at the Vatioan will take place later, but meanwhile being recognized in his official dignity he can commence business with Cardinal Antonelli.

As I mentioned in my preceding letter many speculations are afoat with regard to the nature of the promised modes citendi of which his Excellency is understood to be the bearer. The most extended view of the case is that in consequence of the urgent representations of General Menabrea and the desire of that Minister to satisfy the susceptibilities of the Italian nation as much as possible, on the meeting of Parliament, the September convention will be reestablished and the French troops will be withdrawn established and the French troops will be withdrawn from the Pontificial dominions, the imperial government only stipulating for the right of keeping a vessel of war estationed in the harbor of Civita Vecchia, with some hunareds of marines on board, constantly ready to disembark in case the safety of the sovereign Pontiff should require their intervention. I am alraid that this is a Utopian dream, and that the modus elected will be reduced to more modifications of the customs tariff.

The Court of Rome is very reluctant to break off diplomatic relations with the government of a countries.

try so productive hitherto to the Pontifical exchequer as Spain. Monsignor Franchi, the Nuncio, is still at Madrid, and we have here a new Spanish Envoy, Señor Ximenes, who, for the present, is only charged to assume the direction of the Embassy and the care of the archives, but of whose official reception at the Vatican we shall probably hear very soon. Some changes in the organization of the Pontifical Cahinet are expected for the beginning of the year, with the double purpose of reducing the expense and centralizing power in the government. There will be henceforth only two Ministers of State—one for the interior and the other for foreign affairs. These are at present, and likely to continue so, Cardinais Berardi and Antonelli; all the other ministers, such as those of finance, police, arms and public works, will in future be only heads of departments under the two eminentissimi. The present Minister of Police, Monsignor Randi, is to be made Cardinai, when he will be succeeded by the Marquis Capranica, now Assessor of Police, instead of Signor Collemasis, recently dismissed, as is said by instigation of Cardinai Antonelli, who, doubtless, remembers Collemasis persecution of his friend Fausti. It is to be hoped that the Marquis Capranica will keep Rome and the provinces freer from robbers than Monsignor Randi has done.

Last week every one was talking of the vice rector of the Scotch College having been carried off by brigands. This week it is the robbers in Princess witgenstein's house, and the plunder of her valuable jewelry and objects of art, besides ready money, amounting to about $40,000, which occupies the goasly mongers of Rome. The Princess had gone out for a drive, and all her servants were absent on leave last Sunday afternoon—All Saints' day, by the by—when this great coup was effected. It is still a mystery who the robbers were, where they came from, how they got out, the door being found boited inside when the Princess returned, so that an entrance how they got out, the door being found boited i

On the night of the 4th a number of explosive bombs were thrown at the doors of the bishop's pal-ace and the French consulate in the city of Trieste.

On an average there are ten patents taken out every day in Paris, making the respectable total of about 3,650 annually.

There are upwards of one thousand somnambulists, clairvoyants and fortune tellers in the city of St. Petersburg, Russia, who realize handsome incomes by practising their ingenuity on the credulous. A company has been raised in Spain to secure the throne for Don Carlos. The liability is limited, and the shares are $100 each. Till the present they are not quoted at a premium.

In the year 1867 London consumed 1,200,000 rabbits, which were mostly imported from the north of France, where the annual trade in these animals amounted to about $210,000.

Some years ago a young man in Berlin assisted an old man who had slipped on the pavement. A few days back he was surprised by receiving $15,000 left him by the person whom he had so slightly benefited. The Council of State of the Canton of Obwald Switzerland, has published an edict forbidding any youth under eighteen years of age to smoke, under a severe penalty.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF FRAUD.

A Deeply Laid Scheme to Defraud a New York Farmer and a New York Merchant.

[Prom the Troy (N. Y.) Times, Nov. 21.]

The attention of the Circuit Court, Judge ingalls, was occupied yesterday and this forenoon with one of the most remarkable trials it has ever been our fortune to record. The point at issue is the genuineness of the mortigage purporting to have been given by James Semon, a respectable farmer of Schodack, in this county, for the sum of $4,500, to John Swartz, who, so far as the trial is concerned, is a myth, and transferred to Hudson Hosgiand, a boot and shoe dealer in the city of New York. Ar. Semon denies the genuineness of his signature attached to the document, and on the maturity of the mortgage refused to cancel the indebtedness. Mr. Hougland brings the suit to foreclose the mortgage and sell the property.

Mr. Semon is the owner of a farm in Schodack, situated about five miles from Albany. Its value is about $12,000, and it is entirely unencumbered. In June, 1886, a gentleman called at his house and incurred if he desured to sell the property. June, 1886, a gentieman called at his house and inquired if he desired to sell the place. He replied that he had entertained no thought of disposing of it, but if he could get enough for it he didn't know but he would sell. He thought he would take $13,000 for it.

shoes, and produces this mortgage against the farm of James Semon. He gives his name as John Swartz,
